Pathway programs

- Pathway programs are a good opportunity to the students who are unable to meet the direct entry requirements of the Australian universities
- Students who are not able to meet the direct entry requirements of Australian Universities can be offered 'Pathway Programs'
- These programs can be offered at undergraduate level and postgraduate level
- These are also called as 'Packaged Programs'
- Pathway programs are of two types
 - Academic pathway
 - English language programs

Academic pathways (UG)

- Students scoring 55% to 64% in HSC can be offered these programs
- They are also called as Diploma leading to Degree programs (D to D programs)
- Students usually get admission in a college where they study a Diploma Program for one year (e.g., Diploma of Business)
- After successful completion of Diploma, they progress to the second year of Bachelor's degree, eventually completing their graduation in 3/4 years

English language pathways (ELICOS)

- English Language Pathways are also called as ELICOS, EAP, ELP, etc.
- Offered to students falling short of English language requirement
- Students have to study English 'before' commencing their main program
- Duration of ELICOS is restricted to minimum 10 weeks
- Tuition Fee of ELICOS: AUD 300 to AUD 400 per week

Introduction to Groups

Some universities, pathway colleges, satellite campuses or private colleges outsource their recruitment processes to private entities.

These private entities carry out the entire admission process starting from marketing, applications to commissions.

These private entities are called as groups.

Groups represented by Saadhya Edubrain for Australian institutions:
